Want to thrive in today's marketplace, and remain a competitive force in the building industry? Join your local builders association today!

Whether you are a home builder, contractor, developer, remodeler, sub-contractor or a building materials supplier, becoming a member is a smart choice. And, it's an excellent value. Membership in your local association automatically gets you membership in the Pennsylvania Builders Association and the National Association of Home Builders—a three-for-one deal!

"Get involved. Get noticed. Get results. It's as simple as that, and a great experience."

Bart Sacco

Concrete Texturing Tool & Supply

Benefits

Your membership connects your business to important resources like free model contracts and legal services, and the most up-to-date information about Pennsylvania's contractor registration law. You'll also get competitive rates on health and life insurance and cost-effective workers' compensation. Your membership will also provide promotional listings in association publications and on the web, and opportunities to participate in high-profile outreach events. Plus, your local association's staff is available to answer industry-related questions and to help you find the resources you need to succeed.

Business

Your membership brings added credibility and professionalism to your business, and opens the door to an extensive network of colleagues at the local, state and national levels. It's a fact that members do business with other members. It's also a fact that potential clients often look to a builders association as a reliable resource to help find a qualified professional. Plus, your local association regularly offers marketing and promotional opportunities to members.

“The educational resources and support, like free legal service, are invaluable.”

Ethel Schmitt
Joybeck Builders

10-year member

Education

Want to become a Certified Green Builder or a Residential Construction Superintendent? Need advice on how to write a business plan or motivate your staff towards excellent customer service practices? Your membership offers professional development opportunities and access to continuing education classes and workshops that help to keep you and your employees on the leading edge of industry trends. Many local organizations also offer easily accessible resource libraries where members can get the answers they need to help their business navigate today's marketplace.

*“Being a member keeps us a step ahead.
The networking opportunities alone
pay for my membership.”*
